

WRITTEN SUBMISSION

PARTICIPANT CONSENT FORM

The Australian Human Rights Commission is conducting an inquiry on how best to protect the human rights of people born with variations in sex characteristics in the context of medical interventions.

Written submissions are being sought to contribute to this process. The information you provide will be used for research purposes only. Your information will be stored securely and your identity/information will be kept strictly confidential, except as required by law. Study findings may be published, but you will not be individually identifiable in these publications.

This inquiry has received ethics approval from the University of Sydney. A copy of the Participant Information Statement, which contains more detailed information about this research, is available on the Commission's website.

If you are distressed in the preparation of your submission or would like further support, you can contact Androgen Insensitivity Syndrome Support Group Australia (aissgaustralia@gmail.com), Lifeline (13 11 14) or QLife (1800 184 527).

This consent form is required to be submitted alongside your submission. Without this form, the information you provide will not be used to inform our research inquiry.
