

Submission 63

I have been sexually harassed and stalked at work [REDACTED] and reported it after 8 months as could not cope with it anymore. I had over 50 pages of evidence to support the claims and the Company did not fire him they actually gave him a promotion and now they are trying to find a reason to fire me. I know of 4 other sexual harassment complains that have been made by other women at [REDACTED] and they were swept under the carpet. I now are suffering from anxiety which I have never had before anxiety medication for the first time in my life and now currently getting coerced into resigning [REDACTED]
