

Have your say!

The National Human Rights Consultation is your chance to have your say about human rights in Australia!

Here are some questions to help you make a submission. The questions are suggestions – you don’t need to answer all of them.

Submissions are due by 15 June 2009. For more information see www.humanrightsconsultation.gov.au

Name (your first name is required):

State (required):

Address (optional):

Phone (optional): Email (optional):

Please tick this box if you agree to have your submission published

(If you tick this box, your name and submission may be published on the national consultation website)

Post this form to: National Human Rights Consultation Secretariat
Attorney-General’s Department
Central Office
Robert Garran Offices
National Circuit
BARTON ACT 2600

Q1: Which human rights (and corresponding responsibilities) should be protected and promoted?

What human rights are important to you and the people you know? Why are these rights important?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

Q2: Are these human rights sufficiently protected and promoted in Australia?

Do you know of human rights problems in Australia? You could talk about things that have happened to you, your family, friends, work mates or other people in your community.

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Q3: How could Australia better protect and promote human rights?

What could we do better? If you know of human rights problems in Australia, what would have made a difference in those situations?

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....