

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

You can contact the Australian Human Rights Commission if you think you have been treated unfairly because of your:

- race
- disability
- sex
- pregnancy
- sexual orientation
- age
- religion
- trade union activity or
- criminal record

You can also contact the Commission if you think you have experienced racial hatred or been sexually harassed.

We can:

- Talk to you about what happened, give you information about your rights and answer your questions
- Try to find someone else to help you, if the Commission can't
- Help you put your complaint in writing, if you need this
- Look into your complaint
- Help you to resolve your complaint

Making a complaint

It doesn't cost anything to make a complaint

You can:

- Call our National Information Service to talk to us about making a complaint
- Go to our website to make a complaint online or send us a letter or email
- Ask someone else to help you make the complaint
